

Author Guidelines

The article has never been published elsewhere. The article which has been presented in any either national or international seminar should be completed with footnotes.

The article should not be more than 6 pages in length; it should be typed in MS Word using 11 size Arial.

Tittles should be short and clear and are made up of 15 words typed in capital letters using 12 size.

The contributor's identity should be typed without title, and in case that there are more than one contributor coming from different institutions, an index or Arabic letter should be typed after each name.

The contributor's address, including his/her institutions and complete address and e-mail, should be typed under his/her names.

The article contains:

- 1) An abstract which is made up of not more than 250 words; it is completed with italicized key words typed at the bottom of the page and ordered based on the degree of their importance.
- 2) An introduction which contains scope of the study, background of the study, aims and significances of the study should be one page in length.
- 3) Research methods, which describe the materials and methods used, should be so clear and in detail that they are easily understood.
- 4) Results and discussion. Each result of the study is directly followed by discussion. The discussion should contain the description of the results of the study which were obtained and are related to the studies both currently and previously conducted by the writer and others. Repetition of any statement previously written should be avoided.
- 5) Conclusions and suggestions. They are separated from the result and discussion, and should not be more than one third of a page.
- 6) An acknowledgement. It is addressed to those who have given assistance in the forms of facilities and finance, and those who have supported the writing process.
- 7) References. They are typed using Harvard model in alphabetical order based on names and years when they are issued.